

The Autism Pathway Privacy Policy

The Autism Pathway Ltd needs to collect and use personal data about you as part of the assessment process. Personal data can be considered as any information that can be used to identify you. You are lawfully entitled to know why and how we use your data. This includes understanding any risks and implications of sharing your data as well the security measures we have enforced in order to make sure these risks are reduced and your privacy protected.

This will allow you to make an informed decision about whether you would like to share your personal data with us. It is assumed that by engaging with our service you are consenting to records being kept.

If you are under 16 we will require consent from your parent/ guardian for you to receive an assessment from us.

The Autism Pathway is fully compliant with General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) legislation. We are also registered with the Information Commissioner, Registration Reference: ZB540333

What personal information do we request hold?

- Your contact details
- Notes of correspondence with you (e.g., via telephone, email, remotely or in person)
- Clinical information required for assessments
- Payment details
- Information about how you use our website

How do we get the information and why do with have it?

- Most information we store comes from you or your parents/carer directly
- We may also talk to third parties such as schools or other professionals
- We collect this information in order to complete the assessment you have requested.
- The information collected includes verbal and written information.

Lawful Basis For Processing Personal Information

The Autism Pathways legal basis for processing your data is to oblige to a contract with you in providing the autism assessment service that you have requested.

Sharing Data With Others

We will share personal information about you within The Autism Pathway (between associates such as Independent Psychologists, Occupational Therapists and Speech and Language Therapists) in order to share expertise and provide the most accurate and comprehensive assessment for clients.

We may share personal information about you with other professionals, such as your GP. Your permission would be obtained before we did this. The only exception would be if we were worried about your or another person's safety; in which case we can share information without your permission.

Our clinical supervisors and accountant will also see some information. This is on a need-to-know basis; so our accountant, for example, will only see your postal address that is recorded on invoices.

How We Store Your Data

Protecting your data is important to us and we have consequently put into place robust security measures to protect it.

- All information recorded on paper will be securely stored in a locked filing cabinet
- Confidential digital information will be stored and shared in a secure cloud service
- Letters sent to professionals such as GPs, by surface mail, will be clearly marked Confidential
- All electronic devices (e.g. computer, laptop and phone) used to access stored information will themselves be password protected
- All our staff training are required to have completed general data protection training

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breaches and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

How long will we keep your data?

We will only store your personal information for as long as it is required.

Registration forms and identifiable information will be kept for 8 years after the last date of service delivery, or until your child reaches the age of 25 (whichever comes sooner). After this period this data will be carefully disposed of at the end of each calendar year. Some records may be held indefinitely if there were any issues of concern that could lead to police investigation in the future. This is in accordance with the guidelines and requirements for record keeping by the NHS, Records Management Code of Practice, (NHS; 2021), The British Psychological Society (BPS; 2000) and The Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC; 2017).

Data Protection Complaints

We are committed to protecting your personal data but if for some reason you are not happy with any aspect of how we collect and use your data, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk).
